INDIA NEARING CRISIS; TROOPS ARE ON ALERT

FUTURE OF NATION WILL BE MADE KNOWN MONDAY

BY WALTER J. MASON
New Delhi, May 31 (AP)—Reliable but unconfirmed reports of gun running, troop movements and religious communities arming themselves for conflict spread here today on the eve of one of the most momentous weeks in India's history.

On Monday Lord Louis Mountbatten, Britain's last viceroy in a century and a half of rule, will disclose to India's political leaders his majesty's government blueprint for transferring power to the Indians. Before the week is out the 400,000,000 people who make this the second most populous country in the world should know whether their land is to be united or divided, peaceful or rent by continued bloody Hindu-Muslim battle.

Arms Stored Up

Since it became known the British blueprint would be imparted June 2 tension has been rising. Reliable sources said gun running has grown up from Burma and Afghanistan. Jeeps have been purchased in large numbers and driven into Indian states. Large collections of arms were reported being made in some of the princely states, many of which already have strong armies and considerable left-over war equipment.

Police and military officials at Calcutta completed plans for a defensive cordon about that city. Night movements of troops to strategic areas in the city were reported and an almost deserted war-time military camp began filling up again with troops, mostly Indian. Police extended to June 7 the 7 p. m. curfew in six areas which have been under almost continuous curfew for two months.

Army troops were ordered to take up positions tonight in sections of Bombay as a "precautionary measure."

Public Loses Confidence

The Bombay stock exchange, a majority of whose members are Hindus made public a message to Jawaharlal Nehru, leading Congress party minister in the interim government, declaring it "views with alarm the impending economic crisis likely to arise from widespread communal strife, riot, organized arson and murder."

The message said the public had "lost confidence" in the government's financial and labor policies, was reluctant to invest in shares and even was unloading government securities "because of nervousness springing from internal insecurity."

Mountbatten, in preparation for Britain's quitting India in advance of the June, 1948 deadline, will ask India's leaders on Monday to agree on one of several alternatives.

The big issue is whether India is to be partitioned into predominantly Moslem and Hindu states and perhaps three additional states, or is to remain united as urged by the predominantly Hindu Congress party and as favored by Britain.

World Peace Problems Are Piled On U.N.

BY JOHN A. PARRIS JR.
Lake Success, May 31 (AP)—Egypt's insistence on demands for withdrawal of British troops and a permanent Egyptian union with the Sudan will be submitted "shortly" to the United Nations, an Egyptian source said today.

The imminent submission of this heated issue to the security council drew sharp attention to a half dozen international problems relating to world peace and security with which the United Nations is presently seeking to solve:

1. The future of Palestine.
2. Settlement of Balkan frontier troubles.
3. Control of atomic weapons.
4. World disarmament.
5. Establishment of a global police force.
6. Selection of a governor for internationalized Trieste.

With the exception of Palestine, all these problems are more or less the direct concern of the security council.

The Egyptian government's decision to put the future of the Sudan up to the security council may well present one of the hottest cases yet to come before the 11-nation body.

Documents supporting Egypt's promised appeal for British evacuation and settlement of the future status of the Sudan already have been delivered by a courier from Cairo to Mommouh Hassan Pasha, Egyptian ambassador to the U. S.

Meanwhile, the U. N. Palestine inquiry commission scheduled two meetings Monday to finish its organizational work before leaving for the Holy Land for investigations.

The commission is expected to leave for Palestine within two weeks and report back to the U. N. general assembly in September with recommendations for solving the Holy Land issue.

VETO MAY KILL TAX REDUCTIONS

Slashes In Income Levy May Be Held Over For Next Year

BY JACK BELL
Washington, May 31 (AP)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said today that if President Truman vetoes the tax reduction bill Congress is expected to pass in final form next week, that action probably will kill any income tax cut for this year.

While Taft said he does not want to foreclose in advance the possibility of some further action on taxes in the event of a veto, he expressed doubt that the Republican-controlled Congress will consider taxes further this year if it fails to override.

"It would be silly to come back and try to pass a bill that would give, say, a $1,000,000,000 reduction in taxes," he said. "The people who have been wanting a 20 percent cut are not going to be satisfied with five percent. They would rather wait until next year."

Predicting that Congress will be unable to override a veto, Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) said that a delay until next year would give the legislators time to work out a "more equitable" measure.

He declared that the biggest benefits of the pending bill would go to large taxpayers, that 151,553 of those earning more than $25,000 yearly would have the greatest savings.

O'Mahoney and other Democrats have indicated they will support tax reductions next year.

Goodrich Announces Cut In Tire Prices Below Prewar Tops

Akron, O., May 31 (AP)—A general reduction in the retail list of prices for passenger car tires and tubes manufactured by the B. F. Goodrich Co. was announced tonight by Vice President James J. Newman.

In announcing the reduction the rubber company official cited cooperation of retailers of Goodrich tires in sharing with the company "a substantial reduction in profit."

Effective Monday, the new price, for example, of the company's 600-16 Silvertown will be $1.40, compared with the previous price of $1.60, exclusive of federal excise tax, he said.

"This general reduction in prices brings all popular prices of the company's passenger car tires below prewar prices for tires that were sold before the war," Newman declared.

STRIKE LOOMS IN SOFT COAL MINE DISPUTE

DICKERS COLLAPSE AS LEWIS ASKS 35-CENT RAISE

BY HAROLD W. WARD
Washington, May 31 (AP)—The threat of a new nationwide soft coal strike became heavier today as contract talks between John L. Lewis and 75 per cent of the operators collapsed over a 35-cent an hour pay rise demand.

The break-up of negotiations heightened the prospect that a mine walkout July 1 might provide the first test of new legislation to deal with national emergency strikes and curb union activities—if President Truman signs it. And the president is generally expected to take all factors into account in deciding for or against a veto.

The northern and western operators announced, as the talks were suspended indefinitely, that they had offered a 15-cent hourly increase which they said follows the wage pattern in steel, autos, and other basic industries, but that Lewis spurned it.

Lewis is holding separate negotiations, which resume next Tuesday, with the Southern Coal Producers Association. But the southerners previously have been unwilling to grant as much as the others, and some major operators predicted these negotiations, too, will collapse next week.

"Anything can happen now," said Charles O'Neill, spokesman for the North-West operators who explained their position at a news conference.

He mentioned the possibility that Lewis might make separate agreements with smaller production groups. There also appeared a possibility that some agreement might be reached to continue temporarily the term of Lewis' contract with the government, which expires June 30 when the government must restore the mines to private hands.

But no moves in these directions were made tonight, and Lewis and the North-West operators had no plans for continuing negotiations.

Lewis declined any comment on the collapse of negotiations with the North-West operators and permitted them to take the initiative in making their views public for the first time since the contract talks began May 1. Both sides had maintained strict silence about their talks until today.

Cut In Hours Wanted
Lewis threatened to cut the work day from nine hours to eight hours, and boost the miner's pay from the $11.85 he now receives for nine hours underground to $13.05 for eight hours below surface. His productive working time would be six and a half hours under Lewis' proposal, the operators said, because the United Mine Workers president wants a 30-minute paid lunch plus about an hour's allowance for underground travel time.

Under the present nine-hour day at $11.85, the miner is paid time and one half for one hour of work and for another hour spent in underground travel and eating.

The operators' counter wage offer would give the miner $11.35 daily take-home pay for the eight-hour day. They would have made a sixth work day per week operation.

Tornado Destroys Town In Oklahoma; Five Bodies Found

Leedey, Okla. (AP)—A tornado ripped into this northwestern Oklahoma town of 600 tonight and a deadly tornado of April 9 which killed nearly 200 persons in Oklahoma and Texas.

The new storm struck near Arnett, Okla., and Gage, and then veered suddenly to rip into Leedey from the north.

At Higgins, where the new tornado formed today the April 9 twister killed 34, injured 300 and virtually leveled the town of 750 population.

Then the April 9 tornado went north and tore Woodward, Oklahoma, apart, killing 192 and leveling the town.

Today's storm, however, instead of swinging north toward already stricken Woodward, went south to hit Leedey, well out of the path of the April 9 tornado.

The twister tore in Oklahoma from Higgins, Texas, and for a time its route followed that of a deadly tornado of April 9 which killed nearly 200 persons in Oklahoma and Texas.

LAYOFFS WORRY LEADER OF UAW

Congressional Inquiry On Steel Shortage Is Requested

Detroit, May 31 (AP)—President Walter P. Reuther of the CIO United Auto Workers, alarmed by layoffs and short work weeks in the automotive field, today asked a congressional investigation of the steel industry.

He addressed his request to Sen. Wherry (R-Nebr.) and told him that total steel production in the first quarter of this year was sufficient to "provide for a considerably greater output of cars and trucks than the (auto) industry produced."

Reuther charged that the auto industry received "a substantially smaller proportion of steel shipments in 1946 than it had received in 1940."

He suggested "the need for a more specific inquiry as to the facts and explanations for the continued steel shortage which is restricting production and employment in this (auto) industry."

Reuther said the UAW-CIO was interested in the problem because of "sweeping layoffs" in auto production and supply plants and "the short workweeks of two, three or four days which workers in scores of plants have experienced over a period of months and which still occur."

Joe Beach Begins 20th Season With Tahquamenon Trips

Soo Junction, Mich., May 31 (AP)—Capt. Joe Beach, who has sailed 350,000 miles without ever losing sight of land, was prepared today to begin his 20th season as skipper of the Tahquamenon Falls boat service.

His ship carries up to 1,000 passengers a day along the Tahquamenon river to the Big Tahquamenon Falls, often referred to as Michigan's "Niagara Falls."

In his 20 years, he has never been more than 100 feet from shore.

STATE DEFICIT CUTS UNCERTAIN

Passage Of All Pending Bills Would Leave $2,600,000 Short

Lansing, May 31 (AP)—Through what he termed "somewhat optimistic reasoning," Budget Director John A. Perkins today told state legislators the estimated $31,000,000 deficit could be cut to $2,600,000.

Perkins said the smaller figure could be reached only if every single revenue measure now pending was passed and produced the income estimated. He further pointed out that this "solution" to the budget problem was based largely on a policy of deferment.

"When you return next year," Perkins said, "it is certain that some of the questions deferred now will have to be answered."

"Perkins said that earlier this year the general fund deficit for the 1947-48 fiscal year had been estimated at $53,200,000. A saving of some $10,000,000 in school aid appropriations and of some $14,000,000 in the building program cut the prospective deficit to about $58,700,000.

Figuring in an estimated $11,000,000 in revenue from the liquor markup and an estimated surplus of about $17,000,000, Perkins arrived at his $31,000,000 deficit figure without the addition of any new revenue.

The budget director warned that the deficit figure of $2,600,000 could be reached only through passage of all revenue bills before the legislature. Most important of these are the cigarette tax, beer tax, intangibles tax and racing revenue measures.

President Cancels Plans For Vacation As Work Piles Up

Washington, May 31 (AP)—President Truman signed the $350,000,000 foreign relief bill today and dug further into the work that piled up while he visited his ailing mother in Missouri.

His schedule is now so heavy, President Truman said, that the once-projected summer vacation in Alaska has been dropped.

Mr. Truman does have plans for two brief journeys in June. Next week-end he will gather with old comrades of the 35th Division in Kansas City and following that will go to Ottawa to address the Canadian Parliament.

He will leave Washington by plane Friday morning, and is expected to "drop in" on his mother, Mrs. Martha E. Truman, now recovering at Grandview, Mo.

The three-day goodwill visit to Canada will be made by train. Mr. Truman plans to leave here Monday evening, June 3, and depart from Ottawa on the evening of June 12.

The relief act signed today authorizes assistance to Italy, Greece, Hungary, Austria, Poland, China and Trieste.

Simultaneously, the president issued an executive order vesting his authority over the funds in Secretary of State Marshall. Mr. Truman still must appoint a field administrator.

Other presidential actions carried forward the work of dismantling wartime orders and controls.

By proclamation, Mr. Truman rescinded the emergency power to seize ships and control the movements of vessels, granted to the secretary of the treasury and the government of the Panama Canal in 1940.

By executive order, the president restored the peacetime prohibition against government purchase of prison-made goods. The restriction was lifted in 1942 to bring federal and state prisons into war production.

Other executive orders signed today (1) authorized the transfer of federal employees to the United States missions to Greece and Turkey; (2) restored some federal military land to Hawaii for public works; and (3) added three international bodies to the list of organizations granted tax-exemption.

The three are the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization, the International Civil Aviation Organization, and the International Telecommunication Union.

ACCIDENTS KILL 277 ON HOLIDAY

Highway Deaths Lead List At 114; Toll 8 In Michigan

(By The Associated Press)
The violent death toll in the nation's three-day Memorial Day observance swelled to at least 277 Saturday and the automobile assumed its customary role as the chief killer.

Highway deaths rose to at least 114 after having been pushed temporarily into the background by major airplane crashes that took 94 lives in New York and Maryland. A total of 38 drowned and 31 others lost their lives from miscellaneous causes attributed to the holiday observance.

The over-all count of fatalities indicated violent deaths would exceed the 292 toll in last year's four-day Memorial Day holiday. However, highway deaths were running behind advance estimates of the National Safety Council that 275 would die on the highways before Sunday midnight.

The heaviest traffic toll was in California with 19, followed by Indiana 11, and Michigan, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin, eight each.

WORST CRASH IN MARYLAND, FATAL TO 53

NOT ONE ESCAPES AS DC-4 TAKES DEATH PLUNGE

By The Associated Press
A world-wide series of disastrous airplane crackups the past few days has taken 180 lives—more than a third of the 428 killed in major commercial and military crashes so far this year.

At least 26 other persons were injured, some critically, and three fliers were missing. Investigators and witnesses reported the apparent causes of the crackups were varied.

The worst tragedy and biggest plane disaster in the history of the United States was the crash of an Eastern Airlines DC-4 Friday near Port Deposit, Md., with the loss of 53 lives. The cause still was in doubt but some witnesses told investigators they saw the tail section of the big plane come off before it plunged in flames.

Wind Shift Blamed
Less than 24 hours earlier, the previous worst crackup crash in the nation's aviation history occurred when a United Airlines plane was wrecked in an attempted take-off in New York, causing 41 deaths. Investigators said a sudden shift in wind took place as the plane was attaining air speed.

A flight instructor and his student were killed Saturday when their light plane crashed after it and a Navy DC-4 collided near Red Bank, N. J. The Navy plane returned to its base and none of its passengers was injured.

Near Tokyo, an Army transport crashed in the mountains Thursday killing 40. The American craft struck a 500 foot ridge as it was approaching Tachikawa for a landing.

Bad visibility was suggested as a possible cause for the crackup of an Icelandic Airways plane which struck a mountain in northern Iceland Thursday, killing 25.

Travel Drops Off
Twelve persons were killed in the collision of two planes Thursday at Tillburg, The Netherlands. Three plane crashes in Argentina the past three days killed four and injured one critically.

Three French government fliers were killed Thursday when their Junkers transport plane crashed in a mountain range 650 miles south of Algiers.

Domestic plane travel at LaGuardia Field, New York dropped below peak capacity Saturday. Although some airline representatives said unofficially the recent air crashes might be the cause, the majority said the condition was normal in the middle of a week-end holiday.

HUNGARY TAKEN BY COMMUNISTS

High Official Declares Reds Are Prepared To Run Country

BY JACK GUINN
Budapest, May 31 (AP)—Appointment of pro-communist Lajos Dinnyes as prime minister succeeding the ousted Ferenc Nagy was announced by the cabinet today and a terrified Hungarian official said it meant the Soviet army would now be invited to train and equip Hungarian troops.

The high official, who cannot be named because he said he himself faced exile or arrest for his views, declared the communist party was now "in 100 per cent control" and expressed the fear that "Hungary is lost as far as the west is concerned."

Another official who had just come from a cabinet meeting announced orally that new general elections would be held in September—elections which anti-communist politicians said probably would be held under laws guaranteeing sweeping left-wing victories and clinching the bloodless communist coup.

The high officials pictured Nagy, who it was officially announced Thursday had resigned by telephone from his vacation refuge in Switzerland, as being intimidated at long range into silence. The officials said Nagy had promised to make no public statements and receive no representatives of the foreign press in order to get his pension and assure the safety of his four-year-old son Laci who still is in Hungary.

MEMORIAL DAY IS OBSERVED

Winning The Peace
Is Stressed By Speaker

Recalling some of the outstanding deeds of valor performed by American forces in World War II and urging his listeners to finish the task by striving constantly for world peace, the Rev. James G. Ward, pastor of St. Stephen's Episcopal church, said "every true citizen should forget isolationism and become a realist in world thinking and practice" in a Memorial Day address before a large crowd in the city park here Friday morning.

"We are gathered here today to be reminded that in World War II, more than 252,000 Americans were killed," the Rev. Mr. Ward said. "Among these were 21 Escanaba men, who died for their country. Over 40 million were killed in this war. Thank God, the forces of freedom and peace-loving people have completely defeated our enemies."

"Now, we are engaged in winning the peace," he asserted. "Christian principles must be applied to all international problems, and every citizen must work for and will world peace. I believe that is our only hope."

Escanabans observed Memorial Day with a parade on Ludington street and a program at the city park. Led by the color guard and members of the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars in uniform and Company C, Delta county National Guard unit and four massive National Guard vehicles, the parade included also the city band, high school band, Gold Star mothers, Army recruiters and a host of others.

Children and adults followed the procession down the sunny, windswept street. The American flag was raised at the park.

The park program included water services conducted by the VFW and was concluded with a firing squad volley over the bay in memory of sailors who gave their lives for their country.

Escanaban Pleads Guilty To Charge Of Drunk Driving

Joseph Tiran, 1316 Ludington street, pleaded guilty in justice court yesterday to a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of intoxicating liquor. He was fined $50 and costs and his license was revoked.

Tiran was arrested by state police on US-2 in Bark River township Memorial Day. He was given the intoxicometer test which showed a result of .125. State police reported that the results of the test proved that Tiran was under the influence of liquor.

George Kositzky, a passenger in the auto, pleaded guilty to a disorderly charge and paid $5.

TALENT NEEDED FOR FESTIVAL

Cast Of 600 Required
For "Hiawathaland
Saga"

Nevin Reynolds, chairman of the talent committee of the mammoth pageant spectacle, "Hiawathaland Saga" announced yesterday that the search for 600 local residents to comprise the cast of the outdoor spectacle is under way. "Hiawathaland Saga," the feature of the Hiawathaland Festival, will be presented nightly July 3-6 at the Escanaba Athletic Field.

The cast will be about equally divided between adults and children. Among the various adult groups required are Indians, early settlers, soldiers of the Civil War, World War I and World War II, and groups for dances, drills and ballets.

Mr. Reynolds emphasized that there will be no speaking parts to be memorized by any of the cast and rehearsals will not be lengthy. They will be arranged for the greatest convenience of the members of the cast. All dialogue in the pageant spectacle will be handled by special narrators over an elaborate public address system.

Any individuals or groups interested in participating in the festival pageant are requested to contact Mr. Reynolds or any member of his committee at festival headquarters, 710 Ludington street, or by telephoning 1100.

Robert S. Bancroft, professional pageant master from the John B. Rogers Producing company of Fostoria, Ohio, who will cast, rehearse and produce the spectacle, will arrive in Escanaba on June 6 and rehearsals will get under way a few days later.

The Rogers company will furnish the costumes for the entire cast including those of authentic design of the various periods of the past to be depicted. In addition they will supply special lighting effects and scenery for the huge 390 foot stage to be erected at the high school stadium.

Glass Of Milk Rated Highly By Sailor On Return From Orient

Fifteen months in China and the waters around her left Ronald Shandonay of 302 North 14th street with an insatiable appetite for milk and ice cream. In the time that Shandonay, a seaman first class, spent in the Orient any of these fresh dairy products were hard to find. Of course strawberries and bananas could be added to the list.

The first few months after leaving San Francisco Shandonay was aboard an LST in the Pacific Theatre of operations. This was in July and August of 1945, but his ship did not encounter the Japanese.

In December he reported to the Chinese coast with his outfit aboard the LST 658 — and for several months served aboard small craft transporting troops to and fro.

Later he was assigned to a Navy shore station in Tsingtao and had many contacts with the Chinese. On several occasions the battles between the National and Communist forces came close to involving the seaman ashore.

In Tsingtao the Navy has evacuation centers constructed in case of an emergency and has two PA transport ships in the bay. To Shandonay this was an indication for precaution in his trips off the Naval base.

While on liberty the young seaman, a veteran of one year with the lake steamers also, invited a Chinese girl as his guest. "There just isn't anything to compare with an American woman," was his reply, as to the fascination of escorting an Oriental girl.

American signs, such as "New York Bar," are to be seen everywhere on the streets. Many restaurants proclaiming American foods have also sprung up since the coming of the Americans. Cabarets are quite numerous and Chinese girls love to jitterbug, Shandonay stated.

While in China Seaman Shandonay attended two USO shows. He states several of them come and are an attraction for American GI's can not patronize the local theaters.

Coming home held no greater pleasure for Shandonay. He watched the Golden Gate disappear in 1945 and came back to see it reappear a week ago. With him he brought Chinese pajamas for his two sisters and a robe for his mother, all purchased with one carton of cigarettes.

He is serving a four-year enlistment which began in February of 1945. Prior to a year on the Great Lakes he attended Escanaba Senior High school. Basic training, he received at Great Lakes, Ill., and from there was ordered to Shoemaker, and then Treasure Island, Calif.

After a 58-day leave, which he is spending here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Shandonay, Ronald will report back to San Francisco for reassignment.

The Rich Get Richer

ASIDE from the revenues that will be distributed to schools under the sales tax diversion amendment adopted by Michigan voters last fall, local units of government in Delta county this year will receive $161,675.75 as their share of the sales tax receipts. Of this total, $94,059.50 will go to the Cities of Escanaba and Gladstone, $65,421.75 to the townships and $2,194.50 to the Village of Garden.

Only three of the 14 townships in Delta county last year levied any local property taxes. Those townships that did not levy a local tax either had surpluses in their township treasuries or received sufficient revenue from other sources to meet their operating budgets. Under the sales tax distribution amendment, townships that do not need additional revenue will get it anyway for no other purpose than to swell their existing surpluses.

To cite one example, Wells township with a big bankroll that is the envy of governmental units striving desperately to meet expenses will draw $10,450 from the sales tax receipts this year. Wells township is one of the 11 Delta county townships that did not levy a property tax in 1946.

As a means of spreading tax money where it may do some real good, the legislature this year passed a bill permitting townships to use their funds for highway maintenance purposes, if they so desire. The law does not require townships to pay for road maintenance. It merely permits them to do so. The responsibility is still that of the county road commissions.

The county road commissions are not very well fixed financially. Operating costs have risen sharply. Undoubtedly the road commissions will exert pressures on the wealthier townships to appropriate money from their township surpluses to help pay for road improvements in those townships. If the township boards balk at dipping into their bankroll, presumably the road commissions will concentrate their work in the townships that obviously cannot help to pay for road maintenance.

Admittedly this reasoning is merely speculative. The Delta County road commission, for instance, has not indicated that it will pursue this policy. It is a policy, nonetheless, that fits into the pattern of human relations. It is a logical outgrowth of a situation in which some townships need road improvement and possess the money and legal authority to pay for it.

If it develops into unpleasant relationships between the townships and the road commissions, blame for it can be laid to the sales tax diversion amendment that gives some units of government more money than they need while others do not get enough to meet minimum requirements.

A City United

THE enthusiasm with which committee members are digging into their assignments for the Hiawathaland Festival to be held in Escanaba July 5-6 is indicative of the wholesome community spirit for which Escanaba has long been proud.

The creation of a community festival on the scope of the Hiawathaland affair planned here is a mammoth undertaking, requiring the united efforts, perfectly correlated, of hundreds of volunteer workers. There are so many things to be done and such a short time in which to do them. The committees understand their jobs, however, and the way in which they have tackled the assignments presages a smashing success for a project on which the entire community is united.

Aside from the benefits that the festival will bring to the city in the way of community publicity and new dollars into the coffers of our economic life, a by-product that deserves more than passing comment is the opportunity that it offers to prove the unselfish energy our people are willing to put into a project for the development of community welfare. It reveals another reason why Escanaba is a good city in which to live, work and play.

Army Budget Pared

THE house appropriation committee has sliced the president's request for funds for the Army about 8.3 per cent, reducing the military budget slightly more than $475,000,000.

In voting to reduce the president's figures, the house committee emphasized that the cut, like that made in the president's estimates for Navy expenditures, does not jeopardize our national defense or hamper the military forces in performing its obligations in the occupied territories.

No reduction in the size of the enlisted personnel is required although the officer strength would be reduced 20,000 and about 75,000 civilian personnel would be released.

Significantly, the full request for funds needed for research and development is authorized, as well as funds for the National Guard and the Reserve Officers Training Corps and the organized reserve forces.

The allowances for military expenditure, as proposed by the house appropriations committee, show a broad understanding of our need for the maintenance of a strong army as well as a need for reduction in the extravagant budget estimates presented by President Truman. All of the important functions of the Army can be adequately continued under the appropriation without jeopardizing our defense at home or abroad.

Poor Publicity Job

THE American Military Government is shipping more foodstuff into Germany now than at any time since the occupation began but Germany's food situation is still critical. Thousands are on starvation diets and the German people are blaming the Americans for their situation.

Unfortunately, the AMG is doing a woefully poor publicity job regarding the food situation, so much so, in fact, that many Germans are unaware of the enormous contributions already made by the American people to the welfare of Germany. Knowledge of the American relief shipments and the efforts being made by the AMG to solve the food problem will not satisfy the hunger of the German people, but at least it will help to remove the bitterness that is developing against their own benefactors.

VICTIM OF FOOTBALL MAN HUNT

Poor, dazed Mac Robinson, 18 year old football star of Clarksville, Tenn., only wants "to be left alone." Mac has been an outstanding hero in his home town and so he is a victim of the ruthlessly persistent man hunt of big time college football. He is prime talent for the arena, the meal ticket for any coach, and a drawing card to set the collegiate cash registers jingling.

Young Mac, confused by the pressure of the competing recruiters, is supposed to have signed up with two rival institutions and is now being claimed by both. He is in the position of a rabbit caught by two hungry dogs at the same time. He has about as much chance of free choice about what he wants to do.

One can feel immensely sorry for Mac Robinson. One can only feel thoroughly disgusted at the almost complete disregard for scruples and decency shown in recruiting college football talent. When that disgust becomes strong enough and widespread enough, collegiate football may be put in its proper place and may then deserve to be called a sport.

MOVING FORWARD

When the mountainous troubles of the world seem insoluble and depressing, it is heartening to listen to a man like Charles F. Kettering, vice-president for research of the General Motors Corp. He and thousands of others imbued with the same spirit are quietly and happily devising new wonders to improve the lot of mankind.

Speaking before the Inland Press Association, Mr. Kettering disclosed that engineering advances have been made which will improve the efficiency of the gasoline engine by one third. He also revealed that new refining methods seem to assure adequate supplies of fuel for at least 3,500 years.

It is well to be reminded that progress does not halt because of uprisings in Nicaragua or a stalemate in the United Nations, and that it is coming from men whose primary purpose is not to reform the world but to make a living at an absorbing occupation.

Take My Word For It

Frank Colby

WHAT IS THE ORIGIN?

Matin, Ohio: Is there any connection between "urban" and "urbane"?—F. G. Answer: Yes. Let us start with the Latin word urbs, which meant originally "a city enclosed by walls or palisades." From urbs came urbanus, "of or pertaining to a city"; hence, refined, polished, cultured.

Urbanus entered English as "urban," meaning "pertaining to or characteristic of a city." This is the source of the word "urbane," pronounced: ur-BAIN. The noun "urbanity," meaning "politeness, suavity," is pronounced: ur-BAN-i-tee.

Now let us return to the word urban, from our original stem urbs. Combined with the prefix sub, "under, inferior, subordinate to," we find urban in the word suburban, "the suburbs" (sub- plus urbs).

The prefix inter- means "between." Therefore, an electric railway system operating between two or more cities is called an interurban.

Now let us use the suffix -ite, "a native of or dweller in," and form two more words with urban: The first is urbanite, "one who lives in a city"; the second is suburbanite, "one who lives in the suburbs."

There is another suffix "which we can use: -ist, "one who is skilled in." Combined with urban it gives us the word urbanist, "a specialist in city planning."

A similar word stem is the Greek polis, "city." We find it in such words as metropolis (metro means "mother"), acropolis (from akros, "highest"), polis, policy, politics, and cosmopolis (from cosmo-, "world").

Prefixes and suffixes, such as sub-, inter-, -ite, -ist, are called combining forms. From them thousands of useful words have been made. My pamphlet which lists and explains the COMBINING FORMS is one of the most complete yet published. It's an invaluable reference for English classes and word students. You should have a

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

St. Paul, Minn.—Running for president of the United States is a punishing assignment. Now and then, former Gov. Harold Stassen touches home base here to rest and recuperate before he starts out on another political foray.

He is just now touring Texas as the beginning of an effort to line up southern delegates behind his candidacy. Last week in Iowa and Wisconsin, he talked with political leaders and made several speeches.

Under the rules he has laid down for himself in running for the Republican nomination, Stassen has a particularly tough assignment. He has no state employees on state payrolls who can give part of their time to organizing his campaign. Stassen is on his own.

In light of this fact, the miracle is that he has advanced as far as he has. When he returned two years ago from service with the Navy in the Pacific, he had to impress his personality on notoriously forgetful voters. Today the Gallup poll shows that he stands second, thanks to two years of speech-making, broadcasting and almost incessant travel.

—WORRIED ABOUT DEWEY—

How much does second place in popularity signify one year in advance of the Republican convention in Philadelphia? This is a question which some of Stassen's admirers are beginning anxiously to ask themselves. They are disturbed by reports that Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York is already so far out in front that he cannot be stopped.

Stassen seemed to further this talk in an interview he gave here some time ago. In that interview he said he would accept second place on the ticket if he approved of the platform and of the man who was nominated for first place on that platform. Veteran observers read into this an admission of failure.

It coincided with widely circulated reports that the Republican ticket in 1948 will be Dewey and Stassen. Certainly that would be a powerful ticket. It would have the appeal of youth and dynamic energy, and it would have geographical balance.

But the husky Minnesotan gives no hint that he is ready to accept such a compromise. He says that the wrong emphasis has been put on his second-place remark. It merely signified that if another candidate were nominated for the presidency, then he would consider the circumstances and decide whether he could accept the vice-presidential nomination. It signified, too, that he does not believe in playing the game by the Orthodox rules.

You get a somewhat different impression of Stassen, the man, here in his home territory. While his speeches often sound like those of Wendell Willkie, the resemblance ends there.

Willkie was impetuous, impulsive, often acting on the sudden spur of emotion. Stassen is deliberate, impassive—each move studied out in advance. In his severe, almost bare office in the Pioneer Building here, the impression is that of great drive under tight control—a terrific head of steam in a double-riveted boiler.

That is what those who have known him longest say about him. They tell anecdotes about his driving ambition. One of these, which may be merely part of the Stassen legend, concerns the days when he was a brilliant student at the University of Minnesota law school.

—HOPED TO BE SENATOR—

In recognition of his outstanding ability, Stassen was one of the editors of the Law Review. But a sharp difference with the other editors grew up, arising partly from the fact that Stassen had so many irons in the fire and was accused of devoting too little attention to the Review. At the meeting at which they came to the parting of the ways, Stassen is reported to have faced the others and dramatically proclaimed:

"In 1946 I'll be in the Senate of the United States, and where will you be?"

In 1928 when Stassen was 21 years old, that was a measure of his ambition. Whether his presidential candidacy would be further advanced if he were in the Senate today is another vexing question. Certainly if he had decided to run last fall, he would now be in Washington. But that is the kind of Orthodox Stassen rejects.

He has here at home an informal organization working hard to put him over. Prominent businessmen and politicians in the twin cities are giving generous in time and money. So are such Stassen adherents as Sen. Joseph McCarthy of Wisconsin, who came out for the political get-together with Stassen in Milwaukee.

In Minneapolis, the Republican organization behind Stassen seems to have blundered in going all out in a campaign to defeat for reelection the city's popular mayor Hubert H. Humphrey. Stassen says he is not interested in this campaign. But the certain defeat of the Republican machine candidate, Frank Collins, will be interpreted by Stassen's enemies as evidence of weakness at home.

You wonder sometimes what the drive is that makes anyone want to take the punishment of running for president. You must be all things to all men. Complaining about Stassen's failure to track down delegates, a local politician said: "Why, he's trying to be a statesman before he's nominated."

That is apparently against the old rules, and Stassen always plays by his own rules.

Another Spring, Another Visit

Good Morning!

By The Bugler

MAN, WOMAN, WEATHER — There is an Escanaba man who has one of those temperaments sensitive to the weather. If the sun shines he is happy. If it is cloudy he is grumpy. If it rains his spirits are suitably dampened and he complains too much about it.

This spring the weather has had him in a continual dither and his wife became impatient and told him, very sensibly, that since there is nothing he could do about the weather he might as well try and look on the brighter side of things.

For the next few days he was all sweetness and light. He talked about the pretty rainfall, how beautiful the fog was, and was so artificially cheerful in the face of bad weather that it was almost as painful as having him grumpy.

Then the other morning the family arose to find the ground covered with snow. The husband immediately began looking on the "bright side" and remarked how beautifully the snow mantled the trees, the fence and the telephone lines.

"I wanted you to be cheerful about the weather," said his wife grimly, "but don't you think your carrying it a little too far?"

FLOWER FESTIVAL — And over at Trout Lake, Chippewa county, that same morning of the big snow the fourth annual Wild Flower Festival got under way. This year the delegates, it is presumed, will on their wild flower tours wear snow shoes or skis, and carry shovels to uncover the woodland flowers.

The festival will continue for four days, ending Monday, and it is hoped that by that time the skies will have cleared and the snowdrifts melted away. But we feel just a trifle sympathetic for the wildflower lovers if they carry their festival schedule. It includes outdoor camp fire talks, moonlight hikes through the birches, an outdoor luncheon, a campfire breakfast. One of the most aprons activities of the flower festival is "caravan to visit the glacial grooves at Ozark." Our hope is that the grooves will not be full of glacier.

CROP OF HOPEFULS — There is a warm weather note in the rather cold picture existing these days in the 11th congressional district. The warmth is generated by the enthusiasm of certain individuals who would like to become candidates for congress to fill the vacancy created by the death of Rep. Fred Bradley.

Some of these aspirants are rising out of the mists of obscurity like the old-fashioned balloons at county fairs. A fire is built beneath them and they start expanding into prominence as congressional material—or so they hope.

These hopefuls are sometimes inflated by their own candidacies or have friends or relatives who do it for them. Sometimes they just want a few words in the newspaper saying they are "possible candidates," which is a trial balloon sent up to see which way the political wind might blow.

One aspirant telephoned the newspaper to say "I've been getting calls from all over the Peninsula asking me why I don't run." When the newspaper editor chuckled, the aspirant added, "and that's no malarkey!"

INTO THE PAST

Ten Years Ago

John Babcock, prominent attorney of Detroit, was elected state deputy of the Knights of Columbus at the closing business session of the 37th annual convention of the order here late yesterday.

Yesterday was the warmest day it has been in this city for approximately ten months, it was revealed by Meteorologist W. T. Lathrop.

Castel Gundolfo—Pope Pius XI was believed tonight to be giving serious attention to the Spanish war crisis after cancelling plans for celebration of his 80th birthday anniversary today.

Dan Cupid and economic prosperity work hand in hand according to the historical record of Michigan's vital statistics for the past 69 years just released by the Michigan Department of Health.

Twenty Years Ago

Washington — The supreme court today upheld the coast guard in seizure as rum runners of two vessels beyond the 12-mile limit who refused to pass upon the constitutional of the British rum treaty, which has been attacked on the ground that it was working to the detriment of American shipping.

The Delta county highway and park commission will meet today in the offices of R. P. Mason, county engineer. It is expected that final selection of a name of the New Park along the Escanaba river will be selected.

Washington — With anxiety over safety of American citizens and diplomats in Northern China revived by news of the collapse of the northern Chinese attack south of the Yellow river, the Washington administration is considering removal of the American legation from Peking to a more easily defended point, possible Tientsin.

There was a telephone call from another city in the district and the newspaper was asked to "just say that." So-and-so is a prominent among the list of possible candidates." (This is the trial balloon technique.) When the newspaper editor asked what interest the person doing the telephoning had in the "possible candidate," he was told, "Well, he's a cousin of mine—but that doesn't make any difference."

IT'S WARM WORK —Without connection with the cold weather except for a little play on words is the incident that brought a laugh to mothers of a crop of young Girl Scouts in Escanaba some time ago. The young girls were Brownies, who were soon to become Girl Scouts when they reached the age of ten.

The girls came home to tell their mothers that they would "soon fly up and perspire."

One of the mothers inquired of a Girl Scout leader what "fly and perspire" had to do with the elevation of a Brownie to the rank of Girl Scout. The leader laughed and explained that at the "fly up" of the girls to the rank of Scouts the ceremony called for the leader to place her hand on the shoulder of the girl with the words "Fly up and prosper."

ONE MONTH LATE —Farmers of Delta and other counties in the Upper Peninsula — throughout most of the nation for that matter — are definitely dissatisfied with the weather.

In this county farmers say that cold wet weather has delayed planting from two weeks to a month. The difference is in the elevation of the ground. Some farmers have all of their grain in,

What do you want to know? We will answer questions on any subject not involving extended research. Legal or medical advice cannot be given. Write your question clearly, sign your name and address, and (IMPORTANT) mail this coupon and a 3-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope to Daily Press Service Bureau, 1217 Thirteenth St., Washington 5, D. Q. Which is the wettest State of the U. S.?

A. Louisiana, which has an average rainfall of 55.11 inches.

Q. Who were the Beothuks?

A. Aborigines of Newfoundland who used to daub their skin, canoes, garments, weapons and other possessions with red ochre and grease.

Q. Did any swimmer win more than one event in the Men's National A. A. U. outdoor meet in 1946?

A. Jimmy McLane of Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass. He won the 400 metre free style, the 800 metre free style and the 1,500 metre free style events.

Q. Which is the room in the White House considered one of the most beautiful public rooms in the country?

A. The Blue Room. It is elliptical in shape and its walls are covered with heavy corded blue silk.

Q. Why are lean fish preferred for boiling and steaming?

A. Because their flesh is firm and will not fall apart so easily while cooking.

Q. What are "ghauts"?

A. Buildings on the banks of the Ganges and other rivers of northern Hindustan for bathers. Steps leading to the river form lounging places where the idle and the devout spend happy hours.

Q. Can you tell me how to remove a cigarette scorch from a natural birch table?

A. Try rubbing with furniture polish, then rub with a flannel cloth. If the scorch remains, rub with powdered pumice and raw or boiled linseed oil—rub in the direction of the grain. If the scorch still remains the table will have to be refinished.

Q. How does the Great Salt Lake get its salt?

A. Through the accumulation of mineral salts from the "fresh" water of rivers that feed it. Since only pure water evaporates, the salt accumulates. The lake is about six times as salty as the ocean.

others haven't. Some fields are wet most of the time because of the continued rains, while others have better drainage and planting has been possible.

Potatoes, the big cash crop in the county, have not yet been planted and won't be until the weather settles. After that everything will depend on Mother Nature. If she smiles for 90 days there may yet be a bumper spud crop in 1947.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—If Senator Arthur Vandenberg of Michigan weren't blessed with a wholesome sense of humor, some of the ribbing he has been getting from GOP colleagues about his foreign-policy "collaboration" might cause him to forget his dignity as No. 1 Senator.

Vandenberg gets the needle coming and going, both on and off the floor. But he takes it in stride.

Recently, the Chicago Tribune published a below-the-belt cartoon, depicting Van as a "Benedict Arnold" to his party. With him it grouped George Aiken of Vermont, Charles Tobey of New Hampshire, and Wayne Morse of Oregon, all hard-hitting, independent Republicans.

"Some people think, Van," remarked Aiken, after the cartoon was first published, "that the worst knock that cartoon gave you was to associate you with Tobey, Morse and me."

Later Vandenberg was passing Aiken, Tobey and Morse all seated together in the Senate cloakroom. The trio chorused: "Come over and sit down with us, Van. This is where you belong."

"We Republicans have got to stick together," Added Morse, cheerily.

With a hearty laugh, Van sat down with the rebels. Aiken then told the Michigan Senator of a letter he had received from a Vermont constituent denouncing Vandenberg and himself as "radicals." Vandenberg seemed disturbed.

"But don't let it worry you," grinned Aiken. "Once in a while I get a letter calling Bob Taft a radical, too."

—PATENTS FOR NEXT WAR—

In the hurly-burly of Congress a lot of things slip by that some newspapers don't catch and the public doesn't know about. But sometimes they affect the life of the nation for years to come.

One such vote occurred in the Senate recently. It affected the future control of patents from government-paid scientific development.

Control of the vital patents is one reason why the American people walked part of the time during the war instead of having ample tires. Standard Oil of New Jersey had conspired with the Germans before the war to withhold precious patents on synthetic rubber.

A similar control of patents was one reason why we couldn't ship enough planes to the Philippines to help General MacArthur after Pearl Harbor. The Aluminum Corporation of America had a deal with the Germans to bottle up the use of magnesium in this country—and magnesium is vital to airplane manufacture.

Immediately after World War I there was considerable discussion of German patents and the importance of not letting Germany get a monopoly on war processes. Then, gradually, the public forgot, and 10 years later certain big companies arranged monopoly pools with Germany by which vital processes—such as synthetic rubber—were withheld from use.

So today it is important that the public doesn't forget a second time, and that history doesn't repeat.

—UNDER THE DOME—

One hundred and twenty Congressmen appeared before the House Appropriations committee during the hearings on the Department of Agriculture budget. Though all professed belief in economy, each one urged a bigger appropriation for the particular thing in which he was interested. Already selected as the site for the Republican convention next year, Philadelphia is also in the running for the Democratic convention as well. Senator Francis Myers has been working overtime to bring the Democratic convention to the City of Brotherly Love.

It was Henry Wallace who made the headlines at his big Los Angeles rally, but it was movie actress Katherine Hepburn who really stole the show. It hasn't been publicized, but La Hepburn has become quite a leading Democrat in Hollywood. Republicans in the picture colony tried to persuade her not to go to the Wallace meeting, but admitted afterward she did a whale of a job. Wallace's mail has been as big as his audiences. About 40 per cent of his correspondents urge him to run for president. 50 per cent urge him to form a new political party. The latter type letter has tripled in one month. 95 per cent of Wallace's correspondents favor his position regarding Russia.

APRIL WELFARE COST $59,084

Report Shows Number Of Cases Is Up Within Past Year

The cost of the social welfare program in Delta county during the month of April totaled $59,084, and is $10,822 above the cost for similar services one year ago, according to figures released by A. M. Gilbert, director of the Delta county social welfare department.

Increasing cost indicates a similar rise in the number of welfare cases in the county during the past year.

Comparative figures for April this year and one year ago show that the number of old age assistance cases increased from 835 to 869, aid to dependent children from 180 to 181. Aid to blind cases dropped from 11 to 9. Total cost for these cases in April this year was $42,764.20 and is paid entirely by federal funds.

The number of direct relief cases increased from 318 to 351, and the cost from $7,318 to $9,510. Direct relief is financed by state and county funds.

County welfare and hospitalization costs jumped from $1,310 for April, 1946, to $4,184 for April this year. The number of inmates in the county infirmary increased from 23 to 27 and the cost from $1,036 to $1,219. Administrative cost went up slightly from $1,200 to $1,396.

County funds only are used to finance the county infirmary, county welfare and hospitalization, and administration.

Nominations For Miss
Hiawathaland Are Being Received

The response to the call for the nomination for Miss Hiawathaland has been very gratifying, according to an announcement by the Miss Hiawathaland contest committee.

Thus far, 18 Escanaba young ladies have been nominated for the honor of serving as the most prominent single person of the Hiawathaland festival days. The young lady chosen as Miss Hiawathaland will also preside at the mammoth historical spectacle, "Hiawathaland Saga," which will be held each night of the festival at the high school stadium and at all other official functions during the festival days.

Miss Hiawathaland will be attended by a court of young ladies who will be chosen from the runners-up in the Miss Hiawathaland contest. Nominations for Miss Hiawathaland close Monday, June 2. If you have not already done so, fill out the nomination coupon printed elsewhere on this page with the name of your choice for Miss Hiawathaland and return it to the Miss Hiawathaland Contest Headquarters, 710 Ludington street, either in person or by mail.

Nominees for the Miss Hiawathaland contest will be guests of the captain of the City of Grand Rapids on an inspection tour of the ship when it docks here Tuesday evening. They also will be guests of the House of Ludington at a lunch to be given in their honor Tuesday night. Sault Leads In Tech Enrollment

Sault Ste. Marie, with 57 students, leads all Michigan cities in registration figures at Michigan Tech, Sault Branch. This fact is revealed as the result of a geographic distribution survey recently completed by H. L. Crawford, Assistant Registrar of the College.

"These figures do not mean," Mr. Crawford explained, "that the Sault Branch is a purely local institution. As a matter of fact, our students come from a hundred and twelve Michigan 'home towns', fourteen out-of-state communities, and two Canadian cities."

Detroit, which has thirty-seven men enrolled at the Sault campus, is the largest non-local source of students. Next in rank among home towns is Escanaba, with a student registration of fourteen.

A number of communities are represented by five or more students each at Michigan Tech, Sault Branch. Among these are Menominee, which has thirteen registrations; Iron Mountain, 10; Saginaw, 9; Battle Creek, 8; Manistique, 7; Newberry, 7; Petoskey, 6; Iron River, 5; Ishpeming, 5; and Kingsford, 5.

Escanaba students currently completing the first year at Michigan Tech, Sault Branch are: Clayton Houle, Chemical Engineering; Charles Anderson, Civil Engineering; Charles Beck, Forest L. Kallin, Junior A. Paul, and Robert B. Perket, Electrical Engineering; Willard Anderson, Lloyd C. Ellison, Norman W. Hanson, William T. Harvey, Valner LaLonde, and Clarence A. Swanson, Mechanical Engineering; Roger E. Peterson, Forestry.

Rained Out!
The annual cleaning day for the Wilson cemetery lot owners ended rather abruptly Tuesday when heavy, cold rain prevented those work-minded people from finishing a good job well begun.

A committee of Guild members served hot coffee and dinner in the Guild hall at noon, but shortly after the noon hour nearly all had to return to their homes.

Nevertheless, the work that was accomplished between showers, had a cheerful appearance thru the addition of new flowers, low shrubby and plants in bloom. Smooth velvety lawns replaced the rather overgrown, long grass which followed so much wet weather of late spring. Another day, and the front lawn and shrubbery will take on a new face, when pruning shears and clippers take off the surplus and somewhat shaggy growth of brush.

This cemetery in Spalding township is Zion Episcopal church property and most of the expense of upkeep is thru a small charge asked of each lot owner to help defray the costs of hiring a caretaker.

Leukemia Victims

Offered New Hope

Chicago, (SS).—New hope for patients threatened with death from leukemia comes from the chemical that turns potatoes black.

Eleven patients with acute leukemia, destined to die within a few weeks, have had their lives prolonged by this potato-blackening chemical for months and maybe years.

The chemical, called tyrosinase, is not a cure. It is considered a step forward on the path toward conquest of this cancer-like disease of the blood and blood-forming organs.

Its role in helping leukemia patients was announced by Dr. Raphael Isaacs of Michael Reese Hospital here at the meeting this morning of the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology.

Northwestern Cops
Big Nine Net Title

Evanston, Ill., May 31 (AP)—Northwestern university's tennis team capitalized on strength in singles play today to dethrone the University of Illinois as champion of the Western Conference.

The Wildcats won five of the six singles division championships in scoring 22½ points, 1½ more than the second place Illini.

Ted Peterson, 22-year-old freshman from Milwaukee, won the conference singles title by defeating Roger Downs of Illinois 12-10, 5-7, 6-3 in the number one division.

Final point score:
Northwestern 22½; Illinois 21; Michigan 9½; Wisconsin 4½; Purdue 3½; Ohio State 3½; Indiana 1½; Minnesota 1½; Iowa 0.

NORMAL TAKES AAU CUP

Ypsilanti, Mich., May 31 (AP)—Michigan Normal's well-balanced track team, achieving a grand slam in Michigan championships, ran off with the state AAU title today.

Coach George Marshall's outfit added the AAU crown to the State Intercollegiate championship of last week by accumulating 163½ points in a close finish with Wayne.

NYU WINS IC-4A TRACK

Philadelphia, May 31 (AP)—New York university dethroned Navy today as the IC-4A track and field champion after a reign of three years in competition characterized by the sensational performances of freshmen and the establishment of two meet records.

Phalanx Finally Comes Through;
Wins At Belmont

Belmont Park Race Track, New York, May 31 (AP)—They put a new pilot aboard Phalanx today and the "Gentleman from Virginia" liked it so much he waltzed home by five lengths in the Belmont stakes.

The Virginia born colt found the paying teller's window with no trouble at all this time, after failing in the Derby and Preakness.

Meantime, the fancy favorite of the crowd of 52,344 — Preakness winner Faultless — apparently didn't have it for the king-size mile-and-a-half distance and came in a faltering and fading fifth.

This was a rude shock to the paying guests who jammed this spacious plant to the rafters and invested $315,330 in the mutuels on Faultless across the board as they backed him down to odds-on in the betting.

His victories in the Preakness and Withers, and the way Phalanx kept putting on his grandstand finishes to second place in the Derby and third in the Preakness and Peter Pan last Saturday — all under Jockey Eddie Aronov — made them pour it in on Warren Wright's rangy runner. As a result, Phalanx got away as a $6.60-for-$2 shot to reward his customers.

WORST CRASH
IN MARYLAND,
FATAL TO 53

crash last night of a southbound Eastern Airlines DC-4 escaped mutilation when the big plane struck and shattered.

The crash occurred shortly after 6:30 p. m. (EDT) in a heavily wooded section three miles east of Port Deposit, which lies in northern Maryland near the Pennsylvania border.

Forty-nine passengers, one of them a baby in its mother's arms, and four crew members were moved early today to the drab and deserted commissary at Bainbridge Naval training station.

There the kinfolks, Navy doctors and dentists, and Eastern Airlines' medical examiners began the slow and gruesome business of making identification through dental work, personal trinkets or distinguishing body marks.

Bound For Miami

The DC-4 left Newark at 4:55 p. m. last night bound for Miami, and most of the dead were residents of the south or northeast.

The cause of the crash, whose death toll was the largest of any commercial airline disaster in United States history, remained in doubt. Several witnesses, however, told investigators that the tail section of the four-engine ship came off before it crashed.

The civil aeronautics board announced in Washington it will decide next week on a date for public hearings on the disaster.

John Chamberlain, assistant director of the safety bureau, who saw the crash while flying over the Port Deposit area, said the hearings normally are held a week or 10 days after an accident.

Meanwhile, CAB investigators, Eastern Airlines officials and a thousand men from the Naval base spent the day looking over the scene and checking over the fragments which were all that remained of the DC-4.

Relatives Arrive

Dr. R. C. Dodson, Cecil county medical examiner, expressed the hope that relatives would approve mass burial of the victims, possibly in nearby West Nottingham cemetery.

It appeared, however, that relatives of those positively identified would choose resting places elsewhere.

The kin of the victims began arriving in the early morning. They were taken to the hostess house at the training station, where they talked in low and awed tones of the catastrophe.

After a few hours they were called to go by bus to the commissary building, several hundred yards away.

ATTENDING THE DEDICATION of the old Selden home at Stambaugh on Tuesday were: Charles Chaison, retired locomotive engineer and for 26 years general secretary of the B. of L. E. on the Peninsula division; Ralph R. Finley, local chairman of the Order of Railway Conductors; Claude J. Tobin, chairman of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen; Harry Kirk, trainmaster for the Peninsula division; A. R. Anderson, chairman of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers; L. W. Palmquist, trainmaster on the Superior division for the Milwaukee Railroad; C. C. Robinson, general foreman, motive power department; Peter N. Logan, local chairman of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen; C. H. Longman, general manager of the Chicago and North Western Railway. Mr. Longman served as host during the lunch which was served to crews working in and around Stambaugh as the home was dedicated.

had been placed on trestle-like platforms about three inches from the floor. As rapidly as a body was identified it was marked with a number and doctors passed on to the next.

Typical of the descriptions of the moments preceding the disaster was that given by Seaman 1, Y. Frank Welch of Tonawanda, N. Y. Welch said he saw the plane flying at a height of from 1,500 to 2,000 feet when it started to turn over to the right.

"The plane tipped a little," Welch told investigators, "and then started to nose down. The whole tail assembly disintegrated and I counted nine separate pieces falling to the ground."

Illinois Wins Big
Nine Track Honors

Evanston, Ill., May 31 (AP) — Illinois won its third straight Big Nine outdoor track title with an overwhelming total of 69½ points today as Herb Mc Kenley, the fleet Illini flyer from the British West Indies, easily retaining his 220 and 440 crowns.

The Illini, grabbing six firsts, sharing another and shut out in only two of the 14 events, finished 39 points ahead of surprising Wisconsin which copped second with 30½ points.

Ohio State, favored for the runnerup spot, went without a first place and tied Michigan for third place with 26 points. Indiana was fifth with 22, followed by Minnesota with 18½, Northwestern with 17, Purdue with 9½ and Iowa with 6.

Northwestern had the only other double winner — brilliant hurdler Bill Porter — in a meet which produced only one new record at windswept Dyche Stadium.

The only new mark was established in yesterday's trials as Chuck Fonville of Michigan, indoor champion, nudged the 16 pound shot 54 feet, 1 inch, bettering the 1938 record 52 feet, 11½ inches by Bill Watson, also of Michigan.

Jesse Lasky made the first four reel movie.

Drought And Dust
Storms Predicted
For Great Plains

Washington, May 31 (AP) — The agriculture department warned today that destructive droughts and dust storms will return to the great plains sooner or later.

They may start next month, or they may not come for 20 years. But it is probable, the department said, that they will hit within five years.

When they do come, they are likely to be more severe and more destructive, the department said, than those of the '30s which brought ruin to thousands of farmers and destruction to thousands of acres of rich soil.

This forecast of returning dust storms was made in a bulletin issued by the department's soil conservation service.

Aggravating the danger, the bulletin said, is the fact that many farmers are plowing up sod to grow wheat at present-day advantageous prices. It said others, influenced by favorable livestock prices, are stocking ranges too heavily.

MINE DISPUTE

tional as long as the demand for coal continues "excessive."

Lewis also asked for a ten-cent royalty on each ton of coal produced — double the amount now collected under the government's contract with Lewis — for a welfare and retirement fund for miners. The five-cent levy now is building the fund at the rate of $25,000,000 or $30,000,000 annually.

Lewis also seeks to appoint two of the three trustees for the fund. The third would be named by the operators under his proposal.

O'Neill said the northwest operators are willing to agree to the present five-cent tonnage payment and selection of a third trustee by the operator and union representatives jointly. They also want a statement on the purposes of the fund.

The royalty and wage demands were the principal stumbling blocks to agreement. O'Neill and his colleagues indicated. They hinted that other demands might have been negotiated.

These included six paid holidays each year, a federal mine safety code, and unionization of mine foremen as provided now in the agreement between Lewis and Secretary of the Interior Krug.

Collision Of Bus
And Auto Fatal To
Two; 19 Injured

Indianapolis, May 31 (AP)—Two persons were killed and 19 others were injured in a collision between an automobile and a Louisville-to-Indianapolis Greyhound bus at the south edge of Indianapolis today.

State police said witnesses reported that the driver of the auto, who died instantly in the crash, had driven directly into the path of the bus. They said the driver of the bus swerved in an attempt to avoid a head-on collision.

After the collision the bus careened into the front of a business building 40 feet off the highway.

Thirteen of the injured were released after treatments at hospitals. The six who remained in hospitals tonight were reported in fair condition. All were occupants of the bus.

James Peavler, 28, Greenwood, Ind., driver of the automobile, killed instantly.

James H. Adams, 30, Whitehall, Ind., bus passenger, died in City hospital receiving ward.

Camera Fan Jumps
From Plane To Get
New York Pictures

New York, May 31 (AP)—A camera enthusiast, who told police he wanted to take pictures from a bird's eye view of the city, bailed out of a plane over the crowded Times Square area today and parachuted down into a backyard on 44th street, a few hundred yards from Broadway.

The jumper, who identified himself as Leonard D'Atolico, 26, of Brooklyn, carried a 16 millimeter motion picture camera and said he made shots of the Times Square area as he floated to earth. He had two parachutes strapped to his back but used only one.

D'Atolico, who declared he would make another attempt in the hope of landing in the center of Times Square, told police he had rented a two-center plane at Amityville on Long Island and had assured the pilot he wanted to bail out over Long Island.

D'Atolico was arrested and charged with endangering the life and health of the public, a violation of the sanitary code.

Explosion Razes
Denver Apartment;
3 Dead, 8 Injured

Denver, May 31 (AP)—An explosion virtually demolished an apartment house today, killing at least three persons and injuring eight others.

Firemen searched the debris early tonight for additional bodies in a search Fire Chief Allie Feldman said would halt at dark and be resumed in the morning.

The first body recovered was that of the landlady of the two-story brick structure at 35 West Dakota Avenue. She was Mrs. Gertrude Rowan, 60. Killed with her was her 11-year-old grandson, Richard Rowan.

About two hours after the blast at 1 p. m. (EST) searchers found the body of a man police said was M. C. Breckenridge, 68, whose head was crushed.

Two of eight persons taken to Denver General hospital were reported in critical condition.

Digging for other possible victims continued. Police Capt. L. C. Morton said gas escaping from a broken line set off the blast.

Dorsey Childs, 23, said the explosion left his bed, in which he had been lying five minutes earlier, hanging out the front of his apartment.

Bride Disappears
At Wedding Party;
Flees To Michigan

Trenton, N. J., May 31 (AP)—William Whitehead, 27, a truck driver for General Motors corporation, left here today for Michigan to join his strawberry blonde bride who disappeared during their wedding reception without a word to her bridegroom of six hours, Trenton Police Sgt. John Lananah said.

A missing persons alarm, sent out by state police when Whitehead reported the disappearance, Thursday night, was cancelled today when the groom notified police his wife, Eleanor, 24, had telephoned from the home of a friend in Charlotte, Mich.

Whitehead, Lananah said, told police he was taking the first train for the midwest to join his bride and "find out why she left me."

In Michigan, Sheriff Everett Peck said Mrs. Whitehead arrived in Charlotte at 3:30 a. m. by bus. Peck said he was interested only in her safe arrival and knew nothing further.

Riots Break Out
In Canton; Value
Of Currency Down

Shanghai, May 31 (AP)—A riot in Canton in which five students were reported killed and scores were injured or missing featured China's deepening crisis today.

The civil war worsened, currency declined steadily and the nation figuratively held its breath in anticipation of the threatened anti-war student demonstrations today hence.

Dispatches from Canton said 2,000 students of Sun Yat-Sen university began a premature demonstration, and that five were "bumped off" in a melee for which responsibility was not clearly fixed.

The Canton garrison clapped an 11 p. m. curfew of the city, patrolled the streets in armored cars and searched incoming trains and ships for suspected troublemakers.

The black market trade of government currency went to 33,000 to $1 U. S., and was rising steadily. The official rate remained 12,000 to 1, but financiers predicted the government would have to change it to approach reality.

SOLDIER DEADWar Is Not Over For Many Says Speaker
Of The Day

The American people are the most progressive people on earth—and also the most forgetful, the Rev. G. A. Herbert, pastor of Zion Lutheran church told his audience in the course of his Memorial day address delivered at the soldiers' plot in the Lakeview cemetery Friday morning.

He asked those present not to forget those who had served in the armed forces in the different wars in which this country participated. To us, World War II is over, he said, but there are many disabled veterans in hospitals throughout the land, for whom the war is not over; there are many Gold Star mothers for whom the war is not over, and many who suffered the blight of war for whom it is not over.

If we remember the sacrifices that have been made and the brutality of war we will not be so quick to speak lightly about the next war, he said, adding that it is talk of war that will bring on the next war.

Memorial rites, conducted jointly by members of the American Legion, the VFW and the DAV posts, followed the usual routine of a parade and salutes to the soldier monuments in the city. At the cemetery, the high school band played the National Anthem, the address by Rev. Herbert followed, a salute to the dead was fired and taps sounded. These simple rites were attended by several hundred people.

A sudden rainstorm dispersed the crowd just as the service came to an end.

NO HOLIDAY
MISHAPS HERETourist Traffic Heavy
In Spite Of Dreary
Weather

In sharp contrast with Memorial day reports in general, the Manistique area, in spite of the weather, had no mishaps to report.

Although weather conditions were unfavorable, traffic was surprisingly heavy, most of the tourist element being fishermen who had engaged accommodations weeks ahead.

Indian Lake and Palms Book State parks, officially open for the first time were the mecca for hundreds of tourists Friday and the camp site at the Indian Lake park already is accommodating six campers. The year's first camper at Indian lake, oddly enough, is from California. Residents of Illinois and Ohio are also among the out-of-state campers.

Earlier in the week the parks were visited by several bus loads of high school students making a tour of the upper peninsula. Among these groups were senior classes of the Gains Consolidated school, Denton Rural Agricultural school (near Kalamazoo), and the Farwell Rural Consolidated school (near Flint).

Fishing in the area in general is reported very good—particularly for wall-eyed and northern pike.

Manistique businessmen will, in the course of the next few days, be called upon to donate to a general fund for the community Fourth of July celebration, Thor Reque, general chairman, announces.

Present plans call for the expenditure of approximately $1,500 to take care of such phases of the celebration as street sports, fireworks, parades, street dances and other incidentals. Reque explains, and it is important that this sum be raised as quickly as possible so that the plans may not be hampered by indifferent support.

"This program," says Reque, "is primarily planned for the youth of Manistique, many of whom have never seen a Fourth of July celebration. Various interested organizations in the community will have charge of the program and will also give financial contributions."

SATURDAY STORE CLOSING
May 30, 1947.

Editor,
Escanaba Press,
Escanaba, Michigan
Dear Sir:

In a recent poll taken by the Manistique-Schoolcraft Chamber of Commerce it is assumed that the majority of the people in this area are in favor of closing their stores on Saturday afternoon. This, of course, refers to groceries as well as other stores and will, in the writer's opinion, result in tourists loading up their cars before reaching Manistique. After all, this community during June, July and August is considered one of the most flourishing from a tourist standpoint and to deliberately lock the doors in their faces will be a setback for the city and the county. If the great influx of visitors expected this summer were given an opportunity to vote on closing I wonder what the totals would have been.

On Indian Lake where the greatest number of resorts are located the weekly rates go into effect on Saturdays and Sundays. The great majority of guests from Lower Michigan and Illinois arrive on Saturday afternoon and the first thing they do is to buy groceries. Any local grocery will tell you that they cherish this business, and particularly the initial order for a family of three to ten persons. This initial order that could easily amount to $20 to $50 is what the grocers will miss because when the news gets around that groceries close in Manistique the tourists will stock up in St. Ignace or Escanaba or bring their food along. Some will be peeved enough to go on through to other vacation spots.

This season will be a memorable one for Manistique and Schoolcraft county with Kitch-iti-kipi featured on the cover of the new LURE BOOK. This is going to bring tens of thousands of interested visitors to our county. These visitors will look for lodging, food, sporting goods, souvenirs, wooden goods, in fact anything different to take back home. Let's be hospitable, yes, let's take their money—legitimately, and let's send them back home with a kindly feeling toward Schoolcraft county and Manistique.

Cab Driver Worth Half Million Likes His Job In St. Paul

St. Paul—(AP)—A 62-year old retired businessman who says he is worth "more than $250,000" and whose friends say is worth "close to a half million," was discovered driving a taxicab because "I like to meet people and hear their troubles." He has been a cabbie 12 years.

Frank Meyers, who says he got tired of transacting business in a private office in Havre, Mont., years ago, pilots a taxicab ten hours a day, six days a week for a net average wage of $42 weekly. But his boss, Emil Barbeau, says his charitable gifts run well into the five figure mark each year, including hundreds of free baseball tickets for underprivileged youngsters. He and his wife live in a modest apartment.

Meyers says he inherited some money from his father, a Montana cattle rancher, but made considerable money operating various business in Montana and buying and selling horses during World War I.

"But I didn't meet enough interesting people when I was in business," Meyers said today. "I like to meet people and hear their troubles. That's why I'm a cab driver."

As late as 1912 most movies consisted of one or two reel films.
